LOUISA, LAWRENCE COUNTY, KENTUCKY, JUNE 10, 1921.

M. F. CONLEY and E. K. SPENCER, Publishers

TROOPS ORDERED FROM TUG RIVER MINE WAR ZONE

KENTUCKY COMPANIES WITHDRAWN BECAUSE OF NO STATE FUNDS TO SUPPORT THEM.

The Lawrence, Rowan and Laurel county troops of cavalry, serving in the strike district of the coal mining section of Pike and Mingo counties, Tug river, were ordered out last Friday and lost no time in getting home. The Lawrence county troops arrived on No. 2 at 1:45 Saturday morning.

The reason given out from Frankfort is that the State has no more funds available for keeping these soldiers in the field.

Gov. Morrow has authorized the State police of West Virginia to cross into Kentucky and make arrests in cases connected with the strike.

No intimation has yet been made as to whether or not federal soldiers will be sent there. The necessity for such action is just as great as ever. It will be done, no doubt, after further outbreaks, which are constantly imminent.

TO TEACHERS WHO FAILED IN MAY EXAMINATION

The State Department of Education has sent out a notice that any applicant for teacher's certificate who failed in the May examination and who made 55 per cent or more on any branch or branches may take the June examination, 17th and 18th, and omit the branches in which that grade was made. This will save the applicants quite a lot of work. The results of the May examination has not been announced.

The wedding was quickly solemnized at the home of the bride's parents on Fifth avenue. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Brode and has many friends in Huntington, having lived here until the present time. Immediately following the ceremony, which was witnessed by immediate members of the family, Mr. and Mrs. Lee left for St. Paul, Va., where Mrs. Lee is to be matron of honor for Miss Dora Poole. In my announcement I promised that I would later announce upon what I would stand for if elected as your county judge.

I will spend at least thirty days in each year going over the county in the interest of good roads, and more if necessary.

Paul Powell, pastor of the Methodist Church South, performed the marriage ceremony. They left at once for Denver, Col. They will reside at Owensboro.

GREENUP TEACHER MARRIES.

Rekindling of an early romance resulted in the marriage Wednesday of Miss Annie M. Davidson, 34 years old, for more than a quarter of a century a school teacher and for fourteen years principal of Greenup schools, and Dr. Louis C. Littlejohn, 35, Oconee, Ill., at the home of the pastor of the Central Christian church, Louisville.

JOHNSON IS OUT OF THE RUNNING

ELLIOTT COUNTY MAN RETIRES FROM LEGISLATIVE RACE IN FAVOR OF SHANNON.

Mr. W. W. Johnson, of Elliott county, was here Tuesday and announced his withdrawal from the race for Representative in the Legislature from this district. He was a candidate for the Democratic nomination but is retiring in favor of Hon. E. E. Shannon, of Lawrence, the present Representative.

Mr. Johnson says he believes the counties of Elliott and Lawrence should rotate every four years, giving two successive terms to each county, for the reason that a member of the Legislature can accomplish a great deal more during a second term than he can the first term. Also, the fact that Mr. Shannon was kept away from his duties at the last session most of the time by influenza is a factor that entered into the plea of the friends who are urging his re-election. There is some word that he had planned before and was prevented by illness from doing.

Mr. Johnson reached the decision after consulting the Democrats of Elliott in regard to the two-term plan. They are heartily in favor of it and are for Mr. Shannon this time.

As Elliott gave a thousand Democratic majority last year, in the face of the general Republican landslide it is hardly probable that Mr. Shannon will have any opposition in November.

A. T. Hert, National Committeeman for Kentucky, Dies Suddenly

Washington, June 7.—Alvin Tobias Hert, of Louisville, Republican national committeeman from Kentucky, who was at one time slated to be President Harding's secretary of the navy, dropped dead in his room at the New Willard hotel at 4:10 this afternoon.

He was lying on his bed talking politics and matters relating to tomorrow's meeting of the Republican national committee when he died. A gasp was the first warning to those with him, who included E. T. Frank, former postmaster of Owensboro, Ky., Matt Chilton, of Louisville, who made the trip here with him, and two Kentucky congressmen, J. W. Langley and J. M. Robinson.

"As he gasped he rolled over on the bed," said Mr. Chilton. "We rushed to his assistance. There was another gasp and then he was gone."

The deceased was born in Owensboro, Indiana, April 8, 1865. Since 1904 he has been president of the American Cressington company, with its 15 plants scattered over the country. He long has been active in Republican politics. He was completing his second term as national committeeman from Kentucky. In 1916 he was western manager of the Hughes campaign.

Fisher Maynard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Maynard of Grant district was found dead Friday night of last week on the ridge dividing Blue Lick and Millam creeks. Investigation revealed that Maynard had died as the result of a knife wound in his abdomen.

It was at first reported that Maynard had met his death by accidentally falling forward on an open knife in his pocket, while riding a mule. But later developments resulted in the arrest of Winnie Maynard, Boyd Finley and Emory Finley on Tuesday of this week after warrants for murder had been issued against these three men. The men were brought to Wayne Tuesday night by Deputy Sheriff Fred Perry. They waived preliminary hearing before a justice to appear at the August term of circuit court.—Wayne Co. News.

DOCK JORDAN, Supt.

LITERARY MEETING AT M. E. CHURCH

On Friday evening of this week there will be a meeting at the Methodist church to which all the citizens of Louisa are invited. This meeting is being held for the purpose of developing a spirit of education and there will be a list of one hundred and thirteen questions propounded. A record of the number answered will be kept and these not answered will be carried over to the next meeting. We hope to meet at the different churches and no questions will be permitted that would create theological discussion. The questions will always be literary and scientific and while the meeting must not be irreligious it will not in the strict sense be a religious gathering.

The object of the gathering is to stimulate the young to higher aspirations and to help the older ones to add to their fund of knowledge. We expect to encourage a spirit of freedom and all formality will be eliminated except what will be necessary to give tone and order to the meeting. We hope that this gathering will be the beginning of a public school for all grades and ages and special attention will be given to explanations of intricate points. Unnecessary controversy will be discouraged. We expect to be one in the pursuit of knowledge and will seek to help each other in every way possible.

If this meets public favor we will strive to make it pay in the highest sense. All are urged to come young and old. Wisdom is more to be desired than gold, yet than much fine gold.

Respectfully, JOHN CHEAP.

ANOTHER TRAGEDY NEAR THE LAWRENCE AND ELLIOTT LINE

GIRL AND THREE MEN KILLED IN A FIGHT LAST SUNDAY IN ELLIOTT COUNTY.

On Wallowhole creek in Elliott county, last Sunday James Barker shot and instantly killed Miss Mary Sparks, age 14. Also, he is said to have shot Dan Sparks, a brother of Mary, in the neck, and sent a bullet into one of Hughey Sparks' arms. During the fracas Wesley Sparks, Sr., had his skull fractured by a blow from a club and it is reported that he has died. It is said this blow was struck by Wesley Sparks, Jr., a nephew and brother-in-law of the old man. The younger man is known as Little Wes. He was out in five places during the fight and his death is reported.

Barker escaped and has not been arrested. He is a son of Floyd Barker, who lives near the line between Lawrence and Elliott.

Moonshine liquor was the cause of the trouble. Several months ago Dan Sparks helped to cut up a still said to belong to Barker and Little Wes. Also, he was a witness against them. On last Sunday morning it is said these two young men threw rocks at the Sparks family as they were about to enter the church house. And when the services were over they started the trouble again. Mary stepped in between Barker and her brother, hoping to prevent the shooting, but Barker promptly shot her through the heart. The fight then became general, with results as above stated.

This is the second tragedy on Wallowhole creek lately. Throughout that locality there is said to be a great deal of moonshining.

Later:—A later report says Dan Sparks has died from the wound in his throat. Dan became religious a few months ago and reported Barker and Little Wes for moonshining. He is said to have been associated with them previously in the moonshining business. He made indictments in circuit court in Elliott county, but it is said the men have never been arrested.

City Council Gets No Bids on Additional Paving

The City Council met in regular session last Tuesday night.

No bids were received on the additional street paving advertised for the 7th, except the piece of brick paving on Lock Avenue between the Stewart and Castle residence property, a distance of one square, 208 feet. This contract was awarded to the property owners for one dollar. Several other sections of streets were advertised, including the Lick creek connection, but there were no bids.

Austin Smith resigned as city engineer. Mr. Palmer and Mr. Lincoln are now employed to finish up the engineering on the street paving job.

The failure of officers to properly enforce the laws was discussed in a very pointed manner. The case of three men caught gambling last Sunday was the chief subject. The council refused to receive some money paid to the Treasurer for this offense on the ground that it was irregular.

It seems that last Sunday a small boy asked the marshal and a policeman if they wanted to catch some fellows gambling. They said yes and the boy directed them to a place under the river bank. They found three men playing, with about eight dollars on the board. They left the money and started to run, but were halted. One man gave the marshal a check for $20 which he said was not good, but he would make it good next day. Another promised to pay $20 the following day. The third one went his way without any arrangement. The marshal says he accepted the above as bond and told the men to appear in police court the next morning. They did not appear, but it is said a fine of $20 each was entered. The penalty is $20 to $100 for each offense. The city attorney was not present in court and refused to accept the attorney's per cent of the money. It is reported the men claim to have been promised that there would be no publicity about the matter.

Serious Cutting Affray Near Town of Blaine

On last Sunday, near Blaine, Frank Polley cut Dewey McKinney and McKinney's condition is reported to be serious. The dangerous wound is in his right side.

It seems that this is a renewal of trouble that started a week before. McKinney is considerably larger than Polley and the report says he gave Polley quite a severe beating. Polley drew a knife and cut him three times.

McKinney lives near Webbville and carries the mail from Webbville to Blaine. Polley is a son of Ned Polley of Cherokee. He has been driving a hack between Blaine and Webbville. The trouble arose over a passenger or passengers carried between those points.

C., and had been employed at the Dawes & Myler plant of the Standard Sanitary Manufacturing Company. He is survived by the following children: Louis E. Bennett of Buchanan, Ky.; Mrs. Stella Knight and Herchell Bennett, of New Brighton, and Virgil E. Bennett of Rochester. Funeral services will be at the home.

BEST MOVING PICTURES HERE.

The Eldorado theater at Louisa is bringing some of the best pictures here that have been produced. The one shown last Friday and Saturday night "Once to Every Woman," is a picture that everybody would do well to see.

On Friday and Saturday nights of this week "The Miracle Man" is to be shown. We notice in a list of great productions that this play heads the list of plays as to the amount of money taken in.

CIRCUIT COURT IN SESSION HERE

Circuit court opened here Monday for the June term, with Judge Cisco and Mr. Waugh on the job. The grand jury was impaneled and the judge gave them the strongest possible instructions, emphasizing liquor violations, which seem to be increasing.

The court house was occupied in the afternoon by candidates for Circuit Judge, Commonwealth's Attorney and County Judge, six of whom made speeches.

On Wednesday a man was fined $60 and 35 days in jail for giving a drink of liquor to another man. $10 a quart for the stuff, $60 in cash, and 35 days time makes "treating" so expensive that hospitality of that kind will go out of style.

The case against Frank Bradley is now on trial. Nibert Damron's case, for cutting Lawrence Dixon, is set for Friday of this week.

Grand Jury:—John Hughes, foreman, Charles Roberts, M. W. Chambers, R. D. Hinkle, Harry Bailey, Smith Hicks, John Hughes, Laud Holt, Linzy Sammons, T. B. Frankham, A. W. Hudson, Joe Preston, Tom Arrington.

Petit Jury:—Fred Wellman, Sanford Chandler, D. W. Elswick, Lee McCown, W. D. Frazier, Levi Miller, James Hale, Felix Adams, W. H. Adams, A. J. Evans, H. B. Hewitt, L. Webb, Garred Hammonds, Fred Chaffin, Stanton Miller, Monroe Adams, Theodore Kinner, A. W. Blackburn, Mint Hays, R. T. May, James Richmond, J. H. Grubb, W. O. Spillman, J. H. Preston, Lonzo Estep, Gabe Endicott, R. A. Stone, John R. Diamond.

Louisa and Other Cities Over the Top in Drive for Educational Funds

The Christian Education campaign, M. E. Church South, is closing up successfully in most of the churches.

Louisa's quota was $6000 and the subscriptions amount to about $7000. Ashland first church raised over $20,000, with a quota of $12,500.

Paintsville, over $13,000, quota $12,000. Wayland, $5,400. Prestonsburg, $6000 on quota of $6000.

Huntington about $60,000 on quota of $64,000.

This campaign is for $33,000,000 to aid the 91 schools controlled by the Southern Methodist church. This conference has two schools, Jno. C. C. Mayo college at Paintsville and Morris Harvey at Barboursville, W. Va.

Mrs. Elizabeth Graham Dies Suddenly at Ellen

After an illness of only a few hours Mrs. Elizabeth Graham died Tuesday morning at her home near Ellen postoffice, this county. She was about 70 years of age and was the widow of Lark Graham. Her father was Elshah or Jas. Carter. Several sons and daughters survive her, amongst them being Drs. John and Charles Graham of Lewis co. and Oscar Graham of Louisa.

Mrs. Graham was a good woman and will be much missed in the community in which she had passed many years. Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon. Burial in the home cemetery.

FORMER LAWRENCE MAN ELECTED BANK PRESIDENT

A Fullerton item from Russell Times of interest to our readers follows: Uncle William Bostick of Stonington, who has been visiting his two sons here, Talbert and Green Bostick, was proudly showing a copy of the Journal published at Albion, Edwards county, Illinois, in which American grit and determination was shown to the old gentleman's great delight. In short, the paper showed a picture and a well worded write up of his son, J. W. Bostick, who had been recently elected president of the Brown State Bank of that place. He is the oldest son of Uncle Billy and is just past 28 born and reared in Lawrence county, Ky. The old gentleman is justly proud of his career and there can be no doubt but that early and careful training contributed more to the boy's success than anything else.

SEEKS $100,000 AS HEART BALM

Lexington, Ky.—Miss Malvina Mae Davidson, a Mountain girl, whose home is in Hazard, filed a second suit against W. M. Purcell, oil man, Wednesday, asking $100,000 damages for alleged breach of promise to marry. The day before her $50,000 suit against Purcell had been dismissed without prejudice.

Miss Davidson in her petition said that Purcell agreed to marry her June 21, 1914, and that because of his great wealth and social position she went to the expense of obtaining a higher education and musical training. The marriage, she said, was to have been solemnized October 20, 1920, but Purcell failed to appear for the ceremony and has since refused to marry her, leaving her, the petition says heart-broken.

FORD CARS REDUCED.

Hard Roads Must be Kept up and Protected from Damage

General Pershing has appeared before the roads committee in Congress to advocate a system of maintenance of roads on which federal money is spent. He saw roads in Europe built by Caesar, Napoleon and other ancient rulers and kept in good condition to this day by protection and constant care. On every section along these roads a man (usually an old man) is seen making repairs of the smallest breaks that make their appearance.

President Harding insists that a similar patrol system be adopted in the United States on all roads on which federal money is spent. He is right about this.

There is no such thing as a permanent road. No material has been found that will stand up under all kinds of traffic. All kinds of hard roads need constant care, and protection against damage by certain tragic abuses.

Nearly all States having hard roads have made laws to protect them from abuse. Narrow wagon tires are prohibited in Ohio, New York and other States. The weight of loads is restricted. This applies even to the trucks with wide tires. In Maryland the heavily loaded trucks are weighed on the roads by officers who suspect that they are loaded beyond the legal limit, and if found overweight the excess is dumped off by the roadside. Horses shod so as to do damage are not permitted on roads.

In West Virginia there is a new state law fixing a fine for damaging a hard road with any sort of vehicle or equipment.

The laws are the result of experience and necessity. Oftentimes the greatest damage would be done by people who pay not a cent on building or keeping up the roads.

Protecting The Streets.

Louisa has enacted an ordinance to protect her new streets from unnecessary damage, fixing a fine for each offense. This experience so far shows no damage except by a few horses shod with long sharp toes. Until the rock asphalt has been laid and in use about six months it is cut and damaged by such shoes. The ordinary style of horse shoes do no real damage.

This subject has been treated somewhat at length here to show that restrictions always come along with these improvements and they are based upon experience and reason. At first thought some people oppose restrictions of any kind, but "sober second thought" usually brings them to see the justice of the protection.

42 Seized in Raid on Mine Strike Colony

Williamson, W. Va.—Forty-two men, residents of the Lick Creek tent colony of idle miners near Williamson, were arrested Sunday and placed in the county jail, charged with violating the proclamation of martial law.

TUSCOLA

The ground is very dry and oats and meadows will be very short unless there is considerable rain in the near future.

Some of our citizens will attend court at Louisa this week.

Rev. James Harvey preached at Baker Saturday night and Sunday morning to large and appreciative congregations. His Sunday morning discourse was how to get into the kingdom of God. It was very elaborate and above criticism. He showed the inconsistencies of the doctrine of second and third grace.

The meeting at Oliville closed Wednesday night. It was a great meeting and much good was accomplished.

One night during the meeting some boys threw stones through Dennis Coffey's window. Warrants were issued but as far as we know parties haven't been arrested. There was some shooting at random on the public high way one night during the meeting.

The citizens here are ready to suppress crime in all its forms and to assist officers in bringing the guilty to justice.

If citizens will unite in suppressing crime instead of winking at it or upholding it, it will soon cease and our country will grow safer and better.

The time to put out a fire is before it gets beyond control. When fire is once started a little wind soon fans it into a dangerous conflagration. Stop it in time and save nine.

J. H. Frasher went to Fallsburg Sunday.

Dennis Coffey was on East Fork Sunday.

Miss Shirley Webb was the guest of Madge Ray and Marie Cunningham Saturday night.

In spite of the late freeze James Prichard has two apple trees that are full of apples. They are of the winter variety and seem to have completely escaped the freeze.

Ed Jones of Stinson is visiting friends here. He moved from this county a few years ago to Stinson where he has since lived.

Haskel Webb of Glenwood was at Oliville Sunday.

Clem Brumfield and Miss Myrtle Boggs were married last week. They are deserving young people and will succeed as they are not afraid of work.

Sunday school at Oliville is progressing nicely with much interest and large attendance.

When A Man Marries

At a recent national conference of savings bank officials it was said that married men save more than single men—and more savings accounts are opened in June than in any other month.

So June, the month of brides—and sweet girl graduates and eager boys with the light of the world's battles in their eyes—is also the month of Savings Accounts.

But why limit this advantage to married folks? Everyone needs a savings account and now is the best time to start one.

And here is a good place—where good service and security of funds make our interest rate doubly attractive.

They never made a cigarette like this in my day—

The Camel idea wasn't born then. It was the exclusive expert Camel blend that revolutionized cigarette smoking.

That Camel blend of choice Turkish and Domestic tobaccos hits just the right spot. It gives Camels such mellow mildness and fragrance!

The first time I smoked Camels I knew they were made for me. I knew they were the smoothest, finest cigarette in the world, at any price.

Nobody can tell me anything different.

SOUR STOMACH INDIGESTION

Theodore's Black-Draught Highly Recommended by a Tennessee Grocer for Troubles Resulting from Torpid Liver.

East Nashville, Tenn.—The efficiency of Theodore's Black-Draught, the genuine, herb, liver medicine, is vouched for by Mr. W. N. Parsons, a grocer of this city. "It is without doubt the best liver medicine, and I don't believe I could get along without it. I take it for sour stomach, headache, bad liver, indigestion, and all other troubles that are the result of a torpid liver."

"I have known and used it for years, and can and do highly recommend it to every one. I won't go to bed without it in the house. It will do all it claims to do. I can't say enough for it."

Many other men and women throughout the country have found Black-Draught just as Mr. Parsons describes—valuable in regulating the liver to its normal functions, and in cleansing the bowels of impurities.

Theodore's Black-Draught liver medicine is the original and only genuine. Accept no imitations or substitutes. Always ask for Theodore's.

BACK BAD TODAY?

Backache is usually kidney-ache and makes you dull, nervous and tired. Use Doan's Kidney Pills for weak kidneys—the remedy recommended by your friends and neighbors. Ask your neighbor.

Joseph Payne, traveling salesman, Lock Ave., Louisa, says: "I am an old user of Doan's Kidney Pills and find they do just as they are represented to do. I use Doan's now and then when my kidneys get out of order or my back gets to hurting and they always cure me up in good shape. I have, at times, been down pretty bad with my back; this broke my rest at night and next morning I arose feeling more tired than before going to bed. I always resort to Doan's Kidney Pills when I feel any of those symptoms and they soon fix me up all right. I haven't been bothered with my kidneys in quite a long time, as I give Doan's Kidney Pills the credit for having cured me."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Payne had. Post-Office Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. (adv.)

OBITUARY

Mrs. Bruce Campbell, daughter of Elijah and Evelyn Jackson. Sallie Mabel Jackson was born August 15, 1897, departed this life May 22, 1921, age 24 years, 9 months and 14 days. She was married May 22, 1920 to Bruce Campbell. To this union one child was born and was only 12 days old when the Lord said, "Mabel, thou shalt come up higher." Her suffering was of short duration which she bore with fortitude and patience. She was saved, sanctified and baptized when only sixteen years of age and here is a beautiful character.

Mabel was an example of kindness, always ready and willing to administer to the needs of suffering humanity and her smiles and kind words have gladdened the hearts of many and it can truly be said the world is better because she lived in it. But now she is gone. Oh, how sad are the loved ones left behind.

She graduated with honor at Richmond when only 18 years old, was an excellent school teacher, loved by all the scholars and parents. Having taught three successful terms of school she took a business course and was stenographer for D. H. Carpenter when married to Bruce Campbell. Their wedded life was short but one of peace and devotion. It is sad to leave the little son for whom she gave her life, but God's will be done.

Shortly before death came she called her husband to her bed, kissed him goodby and asked him to meet her in heaven. She then prayed for her parents and other loved ones, but the last words she uttered were for the dear little son she was leaving motherless.

Mabel was loved by all who knew her. Her friends were numbered by the score. She was a most exemplary and highly respected young lady and there is much sorrow on account of her death.

The bereaved parents and young husband are heartbroken. Funeral was conducted by Rev. Campbell, some beautiful songs were sung by the choir from the M. E. Church, Catlettsburg, where she attended service.

All was done that kind hearts and loving hands could do to stay the grim reaper, but God said, "Mabel, you have filled your mission, come unto me and I'll give you rest."

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT
Paintsville, Ky., June 5, 1921.

Mr. W. J. Vaughan,
Louisville, Kentucky.

Dear Brother Vaughan:

Into this hour of extreme grief in the loss of your son, it seems almost sacrilegious to intrude, yet we cannot refrain from expressing to you our profound sympathy.

It is difficult and almost impossible for us to understand why these in early life who seem to be just rounding into so much promise of effective endeavor should be suddenly cut off. But did we stop a moment to reflect that life is not measured so much by years as by the doings of kindly, helpful, and neighborly deeds, the sharp edge of our grief would be greatly lessened. You especially have the consciousness of having given to the world a manly heroic and devoted son to the highest ideals of the age, and though cut off so untimely his example of self sacrifice and devotion to duty will be an inspiration to his fellow men wherever his record is known.

We commend you to the only source of consolation man knows, and Him whom you so faithfully proclaim to others, praying that His blessings shall be upon you and those so deeply affected by this sacrifice.

We the Sunday school of First Baptist church of Paintsville, Kentucky, ask that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Big Sandy News and the Paintsville Herald.

And there is Sims, that English Admiral in the U. S. Navy. Again he has brought his loyalty into question by an indiscreet speech in London. He and George Harvey should be hitched up together and driven out of official position.

DEAF AND BLIND MAN RIDES FREIGHT TRAIN WITHOUT ACCIDENT

Billie Bows, a man who is deaf and blind, escaped from the Wayne county infirmary on Tuesday night, walked to Wayne, a distance of three miles, boarded a freight train, sat down between the bumpers and by 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, climbed off in Williamson. Bows did not wander around Williamson long until he was taken into custody by Williamson authorities who were unable to determine where the unfortunate man was from or what his mission was. He was later identified by a Norfolk & Western conductor who recognized Bows as a man he had seen at the county farm station. Bows was returned on train No. 27 on Friday. On reaching the infirmary he expressed his pleasure of being back home by laughing and throwing his hands in the air. He shook hands with the superintendent of the infirmary, Elba Davis, and manifest in his way, a genuine delight in arriving home safely. The unfortunate man is given a room to himself in the infirmary building and because of his habit of wandering away between dusk and daybreak his room door is fastened with a latch located above the door. But on the night of his latest escape he found the latch. It is not known at exactly what hour in the night he left, but it was shortly after daybreak that two boys saw him climb on a freight train at Wayne which was stopped for water at the local tank. Bows sat down between the bumpers according to the boys, and when the train began to move he waived his hand in the same way that a normal person would bid farewell to friends when leaving on a trip. The boys did not know the man was deaf, dumb and blind at the time but they explained that he handled himself awkwardly and walked with a cane. Bows finds his way by feeling with his cane. And it is supposed that he followed the railroad track all the way from the county farm to Wayne until he ran into the train waiting here for water and then climbed on. It will be recalled by readers of Wayne County News that he escaped once before on the night of April 1 and was found at the Sansom bridge near Wayne by county clerk Ezekiah Adkins, who brought him to the court house until he could be returned to the infirmary. Bows's home was formerly at Poorburg on the Big Sandy side of the county, between Saltwater and Ft. Gay. He can neither see, hear nor talk the least bit. He can do odd jobs when given a hammer and nails, but his most remarkable feat has been the trip to Williamson by freight train without accident.—Wayne County News.

THE FARMER'S COLUMN

G. C. BAKER, County Agent.

This is the time when we should post ourselves how to handle the striped cucumber beetle which causes so much damage to cucumber plants, watermelons, squashes, etc. These beetles hibernated over in the soil, emerge in the spring, after a few days they pair and the female deposits her eggs in the crevices of the soil, each laying about 100 eggs. They hatch in about 3 days and the larva bore into the roots of the plant from which it emerges in about ten days.

REMEDY:—Arsenate of Lead Powder mixed in proportions of 3 pounds to 50 gallons of water and thoroughly sprayed on the plants will handle them if not too numerous, then we must resort to netting the young plants. Apply as soon as the plants come up and every week for four weeks afterwards. If Arsenate of Lead paste is used, use only 1-2 pounds of it to 50 gallons of water or the powder may be dusted on the plants while the dew is on at the rate of 3 pounds per acre.

Cabbage Worm.
Use same as for cucumber beetle, 5 pounds of Arsenate Lead powder to 50 gallons of water except to which add 1 gallon of molasses and spray every ten days. Paris Green may be used for cucumber beetle, dusted on while dew is on, if mixed with finely sifted plaster, sand or other matter.

G. C. BAKER, County Agent.

Memorial Day.

Each recurring May brings around to us Memorial Day until our last great war the memory of the dark days of the sixties was so dimmed that Memorial Day to most of us meant little more than a ceremony. But now, with the great war just behind us and with the memory of those brave clean boys who faced life with so much courage and death equally so, this past Memorial Day meant to most of us just what it has always meant to the veterans of our Civil War.

There is a crumb of comfort for some that they can strew flowers on the graves of their loved ones, but many, many others do not have this comfort for most of our brave boys are resting where they fell, "somewhere in France." To these we can only say "that the grave contains nothing they really loved. The spirit they loved so much lives on just as it did before and in God's good time when they are permitted to throw off their material existence and live in a spiritual world they will be reunited in an existence happier than our material species can possibly anticipate. When we can view death as merely an episode in a constantly improving life, it will lose much of its sting.

all weary. And yet we would not fold our hands in idleness, because perchance, we may sometimes grow "faint with the burden and heat of the day." To us has been given a glorious privilege to press onward in the battle of life, and if our chosen path be that of truth and right the assurance of well-doing will be our sweet reward when, by-and-by, we shall partake of that joy and peace of which the blessed never tire.

Not until recent years have the "dads" of this country had one fraction of praise really coming to them. The "mothers" have always had more or less praise. Of course when it comes to down right appreciation, they'll probably never get their full quota, but they can't deny that there has been a lot of high sounding things said about them. They deserved them all too, God bless them, and a whole lot more.

But now, you know, our "dads" deserve a lot more than they ever really get. Our fathers are, as a rule, rather quiet. They don't say much about their duty to their family or about their hopes. Just because they are so quiet we often fail to appreciate the load they are carrying. Many a father sacrifices too much and gives up his life, too fast for the comfort of his family.

Men, as a rule, seek to hide all sign of sentiment or emotion and many sons do not know of their father's pride or hopes. Fathers have the same yearning pride as Mother's only they cannot express it by the same tender ministrations.

Get a little closer to your dad, boys and girls. He needs your companionship and understanding.

When we hear praise bestowed upon other people we call it flattery.

POOR INCUBATOR BAD INVESTMENT

Advisable to Buy Machine Used
With Best Success in Immediate Neighborhood.

DETERMINE SIZE BY NEEDS

Special Cellar or Incubator House
Should Be Provided if Equipment Is Extensive—Important to Keep Air Fresh.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

After the poultryman has made up his mind to buy an incubator, he is confronted with the question of makes and sizes. As a general rule, a cheap machine is a poor investment, requiring more attention than a good one and wearing out quicker besides being less dependable. The value of the machine is small compared with that of the eggs used during the normal life of an incubator. It is poor economy, therefore, to buy a machine which is not reliable. Whenever possible it is well to select the kind of incubator that has given satisfaction in your neighborhood, so that you may get the benefit of the experience of other operators near by.

Varies With Needs.
The best size of incubator to buy varies with numerous circumstances, say poultry specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. About as much time is required to care for a 60 as for a 300-egg machine; it is usually advisable to get one of at least 150-egg capacity. Special conditions, though, often exist which make smaller machines valuable.

A small machine is often used in connection with a larger one, all eggs being placed in the large machine after the first or second tier. Many poultrymen believe that it pays to have an incubator large enough to hatch the bulk of their stock in two or three hatches, so that much time is saved in tending to the incubators and brooders. In addition the chickens are more uniform in size than those hatched when the incubating period extends over a longer time.

A fair estimate for a poultry farm is an incubator of one-egg capacity per hen, provided that about one-half of the flock is to be renewed yearly and no outside hatching is carried on. The larger machines cost less in proportion to their capacity than the smaller ones.

Good Results in Cellars.
Incubators are operated in a great variety of places with success. Where only a few small machines are used they are usually located in a room or the cellar of the house. A special cellar or incubator house should be provided if the incubator equipment is extensive or if mammoth machines are used. It is important to have a well-ventilated room not subject to wide variations in temperature. If built above ground the walls should be double and the entire building well insulated.

Good results in hatching are secured in incubator cellars and in incubator rooms entirely above ground level, but the cellar is more commonly used. Incubators may be operated in buildings with single walls, especially in regions which have a mild climate, but a well-insulated room is preferable.

The incubator room or cellar should be large enough to allow the attendant to work around the machines conveniently. Many incubator cellars are provided with some system of ventilation in addition to the windows. This is not always necessary, however. The chief point is to keep the air in the room fresh. Muslin screens on the windows provide good ventilation without draft and at the same time keep the sun from shining on the machines. Many incubator cellars have cement floors, which are easier than dirt floors to keep clean and neat.

Lord Rensley's Bride

By FREDERICK CLARKE

(© 1921, Western Newspaper Union.)

All London society was whispering and questioning, for Lord Rensley was on his way home to England after an absence of a year. He had shot tigers in India, had speared salmon in Alaska, and hunted grizzlies in the wilds of western Canada. And all the while Lady Rensley had kept open house at the Abbey. Now he was expected home; he would arrive in two weeks. Actually he arrived a week earlier and unexpectedly.

They had been married nearly three years before. Lady Rensley had been Miss Edith Kane of Cleveland, and her father was one of the 12 richest men in America. The marriage had been considered singularly fortunate, for the Rensley family dated back 500 years—though not the title, and his lands were extensive, although unprofitable. Miss Kane's dowry would restore the old abbey and enable her husband and herself to assume their rightful place in the social hierarchy. And so Rensley had won the beauty of Cleveland.

He and his bride were face to face in their apartments at the Everley hotel. The bride drew off her engagement ring meditatively and handed it to him and said, without a trace of passion:

"I shall wear my marriage ring, but not this. The bargain is an equal one, and I am satisfied. You will never have cause to be ashamed of me in the eyes of the world. Good night, Lord Rensley."

"You mean," he asked, "that our marriage is to be one in name only?" "Why, what else did you expect?" she answered mockingly, though her lips were quivering. "You never loved me. You sought me for my fortune, as I you for your title." And so she turned away and they said no more.

In due course they sailed for England. Rensley Abbey was redecorated and thrown open. Gay parties assembled there.

Then Rensley sailed for India to shoot tigers, and the parties continued. They were as gay as ever, but different people came. There was Rizzi, for instance, that Italian nobleman who had acquired a sinister reputation in several capitals of Europe, and was not diminishing in London. He brought his attendant crowd; flashy women came and sporting men and lawdy actors and actresses. And of the character of these people Lady Rensley knew nothing, for she never stooped to gossip, and she only knew that she liked Rizzi and that he alone of all of them seemed to understand her situation and to have sympathy for her.

So she moved among them, innocently, the lonely mistress of the Abbey, while people shrugged their shoulders and smiled. And then they heard that Rensley was coming home.

Rizzi, too, heard it, and he put his fate to the touch. In his way he liked this unapproachable American lady as much as he was capable of liking, and as constantly. They were alone for a few minutes in the conservatory. From the ballroom came the sound of music and the chatter of the guests.

He fell upon his knees and seized her hand and pressed it to his lips. "I have ever loved you, you beauty with your secret sorrow. Leave him and come with me to Italy. You shall have my love all your days, and my fortune shall be at your disposal. You shall—"

That was the moment when Rensley returned a week earlier than had been expected. He had sent word, but he had arrived before his own letter. So he had strolled quietly in.

He saw the rooms brilliantly lighted, but, when he entered the hall, none of the guests knew him.

Then Rensley entered the conservatory alone. And Lady Rensley, seeing him, drew back with a frightened catch of the breath, and Rizzi, knowing him, rose also to his feet and stood looking at him defiantly, with folded arms.

"Pardon me for interrupting," said Lord Rensley. "Baron Rizzi? Yes? Pray, what is it you so urgently desire of Lady Rensley that you go down upon your knees to her?"

Since he did not answer, Rensley turned to his wife.

"My dear, is it in my power, or is it your desire to grant this gentleman what he is asking?" he demanded.

"No," she flashed out in her bewilderment. "No!"

Rensley took Rizzi by the arm.

"My dear fellow, you shall have your five hundred pounds," he said in a loud voice, which carried to those waiting outside. "But I wish you had asked me instead of my wife." He turned to the guests. "Gentlemen, my cars are at your disposal," he said.

Lady Rensley tapped her fingers upon the table.

"I want to tell you one thing before we part," she said. "I have never given you reason to be ashamed of me. I have kept my vow."

Lord Rensley took her hands in his.

"But I have not kept mine," he said. "Edith, let my faith in you be the proof of my love. Will you give me a chance to show its reality?"

That broke her pride; she cried then, in his arms.

"I've been a fool," he said; but she laughed through her tears when he put back the engagement ring upon her finger.

SOME SMILES

Spoiling Her Day Dreams.

"Your new stereographer has a far-away look in her eyes."
"So she has," said Mr. Dubwaite, "I'll have to do something about it."
"What, for instance?"

"If she doesn't wake up in a day or two I'm going to tell her, kindly but firmly, that so far as I know her job is not a stepping stone to matrimony or the movies."

Practice Makes Perfect.

"What crime did you commit to be in here?" inquired the prison visitor.
"I guess it must have been because I attended too many weddings."

"I see! You stole the gifts or drank too much champagne?"

"No, it was just because I was always the bridegroom," answered the arch bigamist.

His Demonstration.

Smith—Well, Jones, I feel pretty proud of myself. I've kept three doctors away today.

Jones—How? Christian Science?

Smith—Nope; by apples.

Jones—How so?

Smith—Why, they say an apple a day keeps the doctor away and there's my third cure!

Relaxation.

"Do you believe the story about George Washington and the cherry tree?"

"I hadn't thought about it," replied Senator Sorghum, "but I'm willing to get into the argument if it'll help to take my mind off the league questions."

A Fast Night Life.

"Why did your new hired man quit?"

"He wanted to try city life," said Mr. Cobble.

"Where did he go?"

"Over to Chiglersville. That town has two movie palaces and a dance hall now. It's just about the metropolis of this country."

THE STYLE

Mother: Heavens daughter, your skirts should at least reach your shoes.

Daughter: Well mother they are not making the shoes that high.

The Impecunious Lover.

I fear that mercenary is the lovely girl I court, for though I've loved that maiden long, she shuns me 'cause I'm short.

Applause.

"You don't attach much importance to the applause an orator receives,"

"Not much," admitted Senator Sorghum. "There is bound to be applause. You can't expect an audience to sit still all evening and do absolutely nothing."

Two Hunters.

Heiress—That Mr. Hunter was very inquisitive. He asked me the amount of my fortune!

New Suitor—The impertinent fellow! And what did you tell him it was?

Not Answering.

Sandy was fishing, and Donald, who was passing, asked: "How are the fish today, Sandy?"

"I dinna ken," answered Sandy. "I dropped them a line, but so far I've nae reply."—Tit-Bits.

An Imagist.

First Author—My mother always thought I would be a remarkable man.

Second Author—No wonder you have so much imagination. You inherited it—Judge.

Organized to Do It.

Bailor—What is the nearest attempt a woman has ever made to keeping a secret?

Benjamin—Oh, I heard once they formed a secret society somewhere for the swapping of secrets.

Too Difficult for Him.

"Suppose Job had had some of our modern afflictions."

"Yes, and suppose Solomon had to give judgment as umpire in a baseball game."

A Safe Bet.

"I guess they'll marry all right. She is his first love."

"That doesn't make it sure."

"Well, he is her last chance."

Enterprising.

"What hit me?"

"A motorcycle."

"Impossible. I counted four wheels."

"It ran over you twice."

OBITUARY

On Friday, June 3, the death angel with its sickle visited the peaceful home of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Jobe and reaped the white lily of this earthly paradise. This infant child Mary, only two years old, had been ill for some time. She was a victim of whooping cough epidemic which has been prevailing this part of the country, and later contracted pneumonia which resulted in her death.

She was a most lovable child and possessed a wonderful mentality. She had a personal magnetism of attracting people's interest by her cheery little smile and prattling tongue. Little Mary was ill for six weeks and had acquired great patience in her sickness. A crib will be vacant in this home and the dear mother and father and all shall mourn her absence but let us have faith in Christianity so we may meet in the hereafter where these scenes will never occur. A FRIEND.

ORR

A large crowd assembled at the Pine Grove school house Sunday, May 29, 1921 at the funeral of Spencer Perkins, Rev. L. Conway officiating.

Early in the morning the crowd began its assemblage. At first pedestrians could be seen coming in from all directions, then following on horseback, as many as ten riding together, two abreast making a long string, giving one the typical view of a mountain funeral procession had you not known. Others came galloping upon the scene while smaller groups were a few paces behind. And yet, about the hour of 10 a. m. the hour set for opening of services, clouds of dust began to show from the hoofs of animals in gear and then a few moments later the heads of horses and mules began to pierce the opening of the three routes, east, north and south, coming to the rendezvous. Wagons with as many as 15 passengers attended and the writer, failing to count the wagons and barges will not state definitely what the number really was but approximately I'll say fifty. And upon entering the house, husbands and wives together with their children were comfortably seated. But later as the assemblage was nearing its climax husbands were compelled to abandon their family and wives to make room for the mothers, wives and children and seek refuge from the sun, who at that hour, was exercising his power with intense heat, in shades. Some of course, was talking of farming difficulties while others spoke of Republican administrations and yet some stood in silence seeming to be meditating from the very depths of their soul.

The hour had gonged and from the midst of the circle a strain of voices began to ring, some as soprano, some bass, some tenor and yet sounding alto and all blending their voices in the close causing me to use the musical term melody here in giving the description and at the close of this song an able prayer was offered by Rev. Wm. Yates, following a few more good old time hymns were sung and one viewing the crowd could easily see the tears that naturally flows from the eyes of those enjoying the blessings of our Divine Providence.

Rev. L. Conway responding to his duty as pastor of the church came forth to deliver his message and to give in detail the walks of Spencer Perkins, deceased, taking as a text 63rd chap. 6th verse of Isaiah "In all their afflictions he was afflicted and the angel of his presence saved them: in his love and in his pity he redeemed them; and he bore them and carried them all the days of old."

After a very able comment upon these few words and an expository sermon from Rev. Conway the services came to a close after three hours of worship.

Later as the evening began to creep over the hills and the birds had again started their songs, which had ceased almost during the hottest hours of the day, people again began their assemblage as before and it seemed the whole country had turned out this time from every direction, even out of bridge paths they came all seemingly in good spirit to attend the Sunday school held at Orr school house at 3 p. m. every Sunday. The noted choir assembled and strains of purely vocal music seemed to creep through every crack into the open as every one there stood or sat and listened with every ear to its melody.

The writer wishes to make emphatic to those who are interested in Sunday school work that Orr's record is coming to the front in that work as well as very closely observing the elements that make humanity rich, such as morals, characters, health, etc.

The number in Senior or Bible Class was 28. Junior class 18, Card class 30, and when the choir sang its closing song for the service to actually begin prayer by Rev. Conway was offered another good selection was sung, "The Old Rugged Cross" which seemed to fill all with radiant love for God's good cause.

Upon assigning classes teachers availed themselves from every corner of the house and after they played their part in some of the classes. All seemed to enjoy themselves to the utmost and as the lessons were brought to a close the superintendent

Rev. G. C. Conway called for verses of scripture and the response was over whelming from each side and ends of the house. Then as it was time to bring the good services to a close the choir again took its stand and every one in reach of the house came in to hear the closing song. Bro. Pennington dismissed the services.

We are simply breaking the record for good order and it would be too cruel not to thank all of the boys for their good behavior and co-operation. Come one, come all. Good lesson, good fellowship. Come.

Yours sincerely,

WADE THOMPSON, Secy.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The Ford car can well be called the "peoples car," because there are more than 3,000,000 of them in daily operation. That is about four to one of the nearest follower in the motor car industry. This would not be so if the Ford car had not for sixteen years proven its superiority in service, in durability, and in the low cost for operation and maintenance; this would not be so if the Ford car was not so easy to understand, so simple in construction that anybody and everybody can safely drive it.
